Bail of 11 Convicted Revoked

Pressman In A Repeat Story To Committee

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today revoked the bail of the 11 convicted Communist leaders and gave them 30 days to try to stay their jail terms.

The order was in a two-to-one decision by the three-judge court.

U.S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol said the ruling in effect gave the Red leaders a 30-day stay of their prison terms.

During the time, he said, the convicted men may apply to the U.S. Supreme Court for a further stay of sentence pending determination of their case before it.

The Court of Appeals, at the same time, denied a petition by the Red leaders for a rehearing of their appeal.

The 11 Communists were convicted last fall of conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of the U.S. government.

All but one of the 11 have been free on bail totaling $260,000 which would be continued for 30 days under the decision.

The majority decision was signed by Judges Thomas W. Swan and Harrie B. Chase.

Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the Communist party, already is serving a one year jail term on a separate conviction for contempt of Congress.

The convicted, besides Dennis, are Irving Potash, Jack Stachel, John B. Williamson, Gus Hall, Henry Winston, John Gates, Robert G. Thompson, Gilbert Green, Carl Winter and Benjamin J. Davis.

All were sentenced to five years, except Thompson, who was given a three-year term. Each was fined $10,000.

Fellow 'Commies'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Attorney Lee Pressman testified today that John Abt, Nathan Witt and Charles Kramer were fellow Communists with him when all were New Deal employers in the early 30's.

The 44-year-old attorney, former lawyer in federal agencies and later general counsel for the CIO, denied that Alger Hiss was a member of the Communist cell while Pressman was in it.

Pressman gave the names to the House Un-American Activities committee although he said it was offensive for him to have to do so. He testified he gave up his own Communist connection after one year.

Like Pressman, Abt was a lawyer in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration who later held other government jobs and then became active in Henry Wallace's third party campaign in 1948.

Witt also worked for the AAA and later became an official of the National Labor Relations Board.

Kramer's position in the Agriculture department was not brought out.

The names of Abt, Witt and Kramer went into the record after Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) said he thought Pressman should be required to identify them.

Pressman was called for a repeat appearance before the Un-American Activities committee with the hope of filling in "missing links" in the Hiss-Chambers case.

One Killed and Three Injured in Accident

WYATT, Mo., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Two-year-old Stacy Thomas Terry of Florida, Ill., was killed and three other members of the family were hurt when their automobile went out of control on U. S. Highway 60 yesterday.

The injured, Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Terry, both 26, and another son, Edward Nelson, 8, were taken to a Cairo, Ill., hospital. Missouri Highway patrolmen said the Terry automobile overturned when Terry swerved to avoid striking another car which pulled onto the highway in front of the Terry machine.

Text Into The Congress Record

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(P)—Republicans put into the congressional record today the text of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's statement on Formosa and sharply criticized President Truman for directing that the general withdraw it.

Republican leader Martin (Mass) told the House it was "unfortunate" that the president sought to "suppress" the statement after MacArthur sent it to the Chicago encampment of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Martin said Mr. Truman's action was "another exhibit of a bankrupt leadership."

"It is to be taken by the American people as another flagrant example of the incredible bungling by the administration over the past five years, bungling which delivered Manchuria and most of China to the Communists and which culminated in the Korean conflict," he said.

"It is simply another chapter in a long series of blunders whereby sound military advice was suppressed and political decisions, in keeping with the policy of appeasing the Soviet Union, were superimposed for political reasons."

Directed To Withdraw Statement

President's Order To MacArthur To Avoid Confusion

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—General Douglas MacArthur has withdrawn under orders from President Truman a statement he planned to make today on Formosa.

Without indicating that he had changed his views, which are known to conflict with those of the administration, the commander of United Nations forces in Korea cancelled a message he had sent to a Veterans of Foreign Wars encampment in Chicago.

He told the VFW, he did so regretfully.

The incident appeared certain to bring wide repercussions, involving as it does the top United States official in the Orient where prestige—or "face"—is so important.

In Tokyo, MacArthur replied through a spokesman that he had "no comment" when asked to expand on the circumstances surrounding withdrawal of his statement.

"For Friendly Hands"

The White House said today that President Truman directed Gen. MacArthur to withdraw a statement on Formosa "to avoid confusion as to the United States position."

MacArthur had sent a statement of his views—saying Formosa must remain in friendly hands—to the Veterans of Foreign Wars encampment at Chicago. Later, he said he had been directed to withdraw the statement.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross confirmed today what had been surmised that Mr. Truman himself ordered the withdrawal.

Ross told reporters: "In order to avoid confusion as to the U. S. position with respect (Please turn to Page 6, Col. 5)

Rotary Talk On Social Security

Scott Webber, manager of the Social Security office in Sedalia, was the speaker at the Rotary club meeting today noon at the Bothwell hotel, at which time he discussed "The 1950 Amendments to the Social Security Law."

The business meeting was presided over by K. U. Love, president and invocation was by Rev. D. Warren Neal.

Song leader Dick Snow introduced Ralph Guenther, a former member, who led the singing.

Guests introduced by Victor Eisenstein were James McCurdy, guest of Keith Yount; Lee Brandt, guest of Charles Jones; Ralph R. Guenther, Fort Worth, Tex., guest of W. O. Stanley; David Eisenstein, guest of his father; and Rotarian Charles Jones, Franklin, Ind.

Emory Bowman introduced the baby Rotarian into Rotary, Harold Hobson, manager of the Firestone store here.

There will be no regular meeting next Monday, Labor Day.

Monday night, September 11, the board of directors will hold the monthly meeting at the home of the vice president, Emory Bowman.

Selected By Blind As 'Employer of Year'

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The Blinded Veterans Association has selected the Town and Country Shoe company of St. Louis and the Oldsmobile division of General Motors as its "employers of the year." The firms were commended for giving opportunities to blind.

360,021 At Fair This Year

W. E. Preston Has Assumed Duties As Secretary

The Missouri State Fair has just ended its forty-eighth showing since it began back in 1901, and strange as it may seem the attendance for the 1950 exposition had an increase of 48,000 over the previous high mark of 312,000 for 1949. The unofficial attendance figure for this year was released at 360,021.

The attendance Sunday was 39,099.

William E. "Bill" Preston, who today took over full charge of the Missouri State Fair operation, stated the concessions and exhibits and monies from them was a decided increase over any previous Missouri fair.

Mr. Preston explained there have been forty-eight fairs held since the founding of the Missouri State Fair, every year with the exception of two during World War II when the fair was cancelled out in 1943 and 1944 because of wartime conditions.

Today the fair grounds show an emptiness with the quick tearing down of concessions late Sunday night, and the removal of livestock exhibits, horses of both the horse show and Grand Circuit races, the latter part of the week, so they could move on to Des Moines, Iowa, where that state is holding a fair this week.

Crews are busy at work cleaning up the grounds, turning off water at the various buildings, preparing them for the coming fall and winter months.

To Visit Iowa Fair

Rollo Singleton, director of the Livestock Division of the Department of Agriculture, who has been acting secretary of the state fair since the early part of June because of the illness and death of Roy S. Kemper, who died June 14, has left for his home at Columbia. Mr. Singleton will go to Iowa, this week where on Wednesday he will participate in the Iowa fair in judging of the livestock exhibit.

Robert T. Thornburg, Commissioner of Agriculture, who has been in Sedalia and at the fair grounds throughout the week, left today for his home at Moberly for a short visit before returning to his office at Jefferson City. Mr. Thornburg complimented Mr. Singleton on the operation of the fair, having to take over the duties suddenly and carrying out the plans of the late Mr. Kemper for the fair this year.

Mr. Preston appointed secretary of the fair by Governor Forrest Smith, has been on the grounds since the early part of August studying the operations and assisting Mr. Singleton in various duties of the office.

Ten Million More To Get Age Benefits

President Signs Bill Expanding On Social Security

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—President Truman today signed a bill bringing 10,000,000 additional persons under old age insurance, calling it "an outstanding achievement."

In a statement, the President declared:

"Expanded coverage and increased benefits in old age insurance should now be matched by steps to strengthen our unemployment insurance system. "At the same time, we urgently need a system of insurance against loss of wages through temporary or permanent disability.

"These and other vital improvements in our social security laws are needed in addition to the act which I have signed today.

"I shall continue to urge action on this unfinished business and I know that the committees of Congress are now preparing to give these matters serious consideration."

Mr. Truman attacked as "very unfortunate" the so-called "Knowland amendment" sponsored by Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) which the Senate added as a rider. He expressed hope Congress will "reconsider this ill-advised provision."

This is a provision which administration spokesmen contend would restrict the authority of Secretary of Labor Tobin to withhold unemployment compensation funds from states failing to meet federal standards.

Uranium In British Isles

LONDON, Aug. 28.—(P)—The British government has announced discovery of the largest single deposit—perhaps a million tons—of uranium located in the British Isles.

The ministry of supply said the ore, in northern Wales, is of "extremely low yield." The ministry hinted exploitation might not be feasible.

The department of scientific and industrial research, however, said the ore is "in no way inferior" to deposits being worked by the Russians in East Germany. The scientists calculated the ore would yield 80 grams (less than three ounces) per ton.

Economy Call Made By CED

Would Take Out Wallop On Output For Military

By Sterling F. Green

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(P)—The Committee for Economic Development today called for a swift and rigorous tax-and-save program to take the inflationary wallop out of military spending.

The businessmen's planning organization, in a special report, forecast that total defense outlays may zoom to a rate of $30,000,000,000 or $35,000,000,000 annually a year from now.

CED said it can be handled on a non-inflationary, pay-as-you-go basis if swift measures are taken, and offered a five-point plan of action.

It called on Congress to pass promptly the stalled mobilization act and President Truman's $5,000,000,000 tax boost as a "roughly adequate first step"; on the Treasury to start a major savings bond drive by Thanksgiving; and on the administration to slash non-military spending.

Price, wage and ration controls are not yet necessary, the CED said, but it proposed that Congress set up a watchdog committee to ferret out and expose "hoarding, speculation, and excessive price or wage raising."

The statement, written by the program committee of CED's research and policy committee, was released today by Marion B. Folsom, treasurer of Eastman Kodak Co. and chairman of CED, and Myer Kestbaum, president of Hof, Schaffner & Marx, Chicago, and chairman of the program and policy committee.

Restrain Inflation

"The Communist attack upon the republic of Korea was a flash of lightning which made the basic facts of our world situation clearer than they had been before," said the statement.

The immediate need, it went on, is to take these five steps to restrain the inflationary potential "at its source, which is excessive demand."

"1. Curtail government non-military expenditures to the maximum possible extent. . . .

"2. Raise taxes, so that as the military program absorbs production, taxes will withdraw income from private hands. (The CED did not recommend an excess profits tax but said one may be necessary "in an extreme emergency.")

"3. Conduct a savings program . . . an effective savings bond program.

"4. . . . Sell more (government) bonds outside the banking system and reduce the supply of money.

"5. Restrict credit to curtail the demands that are mainly financed by credit expansion—namely the demands for consumers' durable goods, for housing, and for business plant, equipment and inventories."

The keynote of CED's statement was speed in applying the brakes to inflation.

"We need quick and fundamental action now, quicker and more fundamental than is possible by the route of direct controls," the statement said.

MacArthur Message That Truman Ordered Withdrawn

(The following is an abstract from the text of a message by Gen. Douglas MacArthur to the Veterans of Foreign Wars relative to the defense line of the United States in the Pacific area. MacArthur's message has already been published in other news media and made available to the reading public, including the Russians, Chinese, etc., before the President's withdrawal request.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(P)—Gen. MacArthur said today "we may have peace" by holding a Pacific island defense line — including Formosa—but "lose it and war is inevitable."

MacArthur gave great military importance to Formosa, last major stronghold of Chinese Nationalist forces, in a cabled message to the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The United States has no armed forces on Formosa, but the U.S. Seventh Fleet has been patrolling the Formosa strait to prevent an often-threatened attack by Chinese Communists.

Big Dailies Are Again Published

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(P)—The New York World-Telegram and Sun, one of the country's largest afternoon dailies, rolled off the presses today for the first time in 11 weeks.

The newspaper was shut down last June 13 by a CIO American Newspaper Guild strike, which was settled last Wednesday with the signing of a new two-year contract.

A series of special comic strips, telescoping developments missed during the strike and bringing readers up to date in the council stories, began in today's issue.

The new agreement provides a one-year ban against any economy dismissals, plus a job security system calling for grievance machinery and arbitration of any mass dismissals after the first year.

It also gives wage increases, boosting the lowest category minimums from $28 to $36 a week to $30 and $39 weekly, and the $44 to $110 minimum to $50 and $120. The $120 is the minimum for experienced newsmen.

Convention of VFW Opens

Memorial For Nations War Dead Is Held

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(P)—Veterans of Foreign Wars today opened their 51st national encampment, a meeting which may have produced its biggest news in advance—a withheld message from General MacArthur.

The Far East commander cabled the message last week to be read at the convention by the National VFW Commander, Clyde A. Lewis. It dealt with U. S. military policy in the Asiatic-Pacific area.

Yesterday, a second cable from General MacArthur was received by Lewis. It said that MacArthur had been directed to withdraw the earlier statement.

Today, in Washington, the White House said that President Truman asked MacArthur to withdraw the statement "to avoid confusion as to the United States position."

As the first session of the VFW convention began with a memorial service for the nation's military dead, Commander Lewis told reporters he would read MacArthur's second cable from the platform.

He would honor General MacArthur's request that the statement not be read to the delegates, Lewis said.

But the conventioners were able to read the text of the original MacArthur message in Chicago newspapers circulating freely on the floor of the big arena auditorium.

The message had been distributed by VFW officials to newspapers and magazines approximately four days before the withdrawal request was received.

At least one magazine—U. S. News and World Report—had printed it and had been placed in the mails before it was revoked. Many newspapers decided to print it, regardless of the request by General MacArthur that it be withheld.

Average Grants In Assistance $43.90

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Missouri's old age pensioners drew average grants of $43.90 this month, the state division of welfare reported today. Payments totaled $5,809,710.

That was an increase of $31,012 over July, when 131,854 recipients got grants averaging $43.83.

Aid to dependent children totaled $1,364,970 during August, when 26,044 families received grants averaging $52.41 per family. In July ADC payments to 26,250 families totaled $1,377,375 and averaged $52.47.

Try To Tighten Trade Controls

Step To Keep Some Materials From Russia

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(P)—The United States has decided to try to tighten up the system of trade controls by which strategic materials are supposed to be kept from Russia.

State and Commerce department officials concede in talks with newspaper men that important war potential goods have been leaking out to the Communist countries through loopholes. But closing those loopholes involves a difficult problem of cooperation by other governments since most of them are in Western Europe.

Some American experts on economic policy say that what the United States is faced with here is economic warfare with the Communist countries. Others contend the question is simpler, being concerned solely with preventing the Russians from getting American or Western European goods which would aid them in a military sense.

The whole matter was reviewed by the President's top policy making agency, the National Security Council, last Thursday. Reliable sources who cannot be named say the government then decided that steps must be taken to prevent the loss of important materials now (Continued to Page 6, Column 5)

Forty-four To Be Examined

Forty-four men in Pettis county, who come under the 21 year old age limit, will leave for Kansas City Wednesday morning, where they will be given their physical examinations which are preliminary for induction into the armed services.

Following this call eleven more have been ordered to report for physicals at Kansas City on September 6.

The first call for induction in Pettis county was also received and ten men in the 1A class have been ordered to report for induction on September 9. Since the list of inductees was published Sunday, another name has been added. The tenth inductee is Norman H. Fulton, 1802 South Stewart avenue, who was transferred from Saluda, Va.

Guardsmen Are Home From Fort

Local units of the National Guard's 35th Division returned Sunday morning to Sedalia after a 15 day training camp at Fort Leonard Wood.

The Headquarters 35th Division and Battery C of the 128th Field Artillery, composed of about 75 men, were the units to go to the camp from Sedalia.

While at the camp the postal section of the division post office handling over 113,000 pieces of mail. The artillery unit was able to get in several days of practice firing while attending the camp.

Returning with the Sedalia units Sunday was General John C. McLaughlin, commander of the 35th Division.

Farmer Burns To Death in a Car

RAYMONDSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 28.—(P)—Lee Wilson, a farmer of near Licking, Mo., burned to death here early yesterday in a fire that swept a cabin and a tavern and damaged the post office.

Authorities said Wilson was sleeping in the cabin. The fire was believed to have started in the cabin, then spread to the tavern next door and on to the post office.

Trains Move On Regular Schedules

Army In Charge But Wage Issue Still Unsettled

By Norman Walker

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(P)—The nation's railroads maintained on-time operations today under the army's direction — but the labor dispute which had threatened to halt the trains was still unsettled.

The army took over the rail system at 4 p. m. (EST) yesterday. This was on orders from President Truman, who last Friday ordered the railroad industry seized by the government to avert a nationwide strike.

A half hour after Mr. Truman ordered seizure, the two strike-threatening unions called off their walkout scheduled for today. The labor groups—the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Order of Railway Conductors—said their 300,000 members will stay on their jobs for the government.

So the actual taking over of the railroads by the army was a rather prefatory affair. No troops boarded locomotives or manned depots. About 50 uniformed army officers assumed a general sort of supervision under Karl R. Bendtsen, assistant army secretary.

Rank of Colonels

The presidents of seven major railroads were put in charge of rail operations in various sections of the nation with the rank of army colonels.

About the only difference under seizure that the public could notice was that placards telling of army operations were posted in major railroad stations.

The dispute back of the union strike threat involved trainmen and conductors pay demands. They asked a 40-hour week and 31-cent hourly pay boost for yard service workers and wage boosts for workers on moving trains.

The carriers accepted a White House proposal for a 23-cent increase and 40-hour week for yard service employees and a five-cent increase for train service workers, plus a three-year no-strike pledge and a living cost adjustment arrangement. But the unions rejected that plan and called the strike.

All negotiations are off for the time being. But talks are expected to be resumed after a few days. Probably the White House will seek to initiate and aid renewed talks.

The government has made it clear that it won't try to make a deal with the unions but that it is up to the carriers and unions to settle their own argument before the seizure order can be lifted.

May Be "Last Gasp"

The Reds had thrown into the battle 40,000 of the 64,000 troops they have pressing against the front, which is anchored on the south coast west of Masan port, 27 airline miles west of Pusan.

In a message urging the South Koreans to hold, Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, U.S. 8th Army commander, said: "It is my belief the over-extended enemy is making his last gasp. Tear him apart now so that our road to victory will be that much surer and quicker."

Earlier Monday General Walker expressed concern over optimism shown by some frontline troops and officers. He warned against it before taking off on an air tour of the Korean front.

Before the late Monday air and field reports were received the 8th Army in Korea and General MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo had reported the Red drive contained.

At the Pohang airstrip, six miles below the No. 2 South Korean east coast port, correspondent Boyle said American officers were optimistic about the possibility of stopping the Communist assault.

Boyle's report tallied with Air Force information that one of the roads south of Kigye, mountain town nine miles northwest of Pohang, had been brought under mortar fire. Kigye has changed hands several times in the fighting.

Some of Gains Wiped Out In A South Korean Counter Thrust

By Relman Morin

TOKYO, Tuesday, Aug. 29.—(P)—The Korean Reds drove back the right wing of the Allied defense line on Korea's east coast Monday, then lost some of their gains to a South Korean counter-push. But they were maintaining strong pressure on the Pohang sector Monday night.

In a dispatch filed at midnight Monday from Pohang, AP correspondent Tom Lambert said that after having lost considerable ground, mileage undisclosed, the South Koreans edged back northward late Monday in an attempt to lift the sagging defense line. They had American air, artillery and naval gunfire support.

Lambert said the South Koreans had reached the southern edge of a broad valley leading towards Kigye, 10 miles northwest of Pohang, but the Reds still held Kigye and were reported making new aggressive moves after dark Monday.

Front in North Aflame

U.S. pilots said the whole northern front—east and west from the Nakdong river to the east coast—was aflame.

The most severe fighting was before Pohang on the Sea of Japan east coast, and 22 miles north of Taegu near the Red-held village of Uihung.

The needle craft exhibits of the 1950 Missouri State Fair, according to Mrs. W. E. Scotten, Sedalia was the heaviest in her six years as superintendent of this department. A large 9x11 hooked rug with an estimated value of more than $500 was one of the best of the many rugs entered. It was made from wool rags with both weight and beauty of color and design by Mrs. George Rucker of Clinton.

Dresses, smocks, play suits, pajamas, coats and garments made from commercial bags were the most numerous in years along with knitted and crocheted table cloths and bed spreads.

Mrs. Nannie Knight, elderly exhibitor from Ulrich, Missouri, showing for the first time at Sedalia won two firsts and two seconds out of her four entries.

History was added to the displays by an entry for exhibition only by Maxine Wendt, 1820 East Ninth street, Sedalia, niece of Mrs. Cynthia Hawkins Spearman, Bundy, Missouri, who died in 1943 at the age of 92 years. This quilt beautifully handstitched was made by Mrs. Spearman, whose photograph was attached to the exhibit, when she was eighty-three years old, along with many others made for her nieces. At nine years of age Mrs. Spearman lost both hands completely in ascorium mill accident, but went ahead to teach in Missouri Public Schools for forty years and was county superintendent of schools in Miller county and rode a side saddle from county to county. She was a great traveler and made a trip from Kansas to Texas when eleven years old in a covered wagon drawn by oxen. Her last big trip was from Wichita, Kans., to Kansas City, Missouri, by plane shortly before her death. A sample of her perfect penmanship was displayed with the photograph showing that lack of hands was a small handicap to a pioneer of her ambition and energy.

First of the Fine Cars in Value
Little
Just how much need a really fine car cost?

YOU'LL find the answer written in the delivered price tags of this bold and strapping beauty pictured here.

It's a Buick ROADMASTER—and you have only to put yourself behind the wheel to see that it is truly fine by any yardstick.

But it leaves the factory carrying the lowest price per pound of any car in the fine-car field.

That means that the money that goes into its building goes for things that really count—

For a big, husky Fireball straight-eight engine of 152 hp and all the brilliance of performance the highways can handle—

For room that measures up with the biggest, and for comfort contrived of deep soft seats and abundant space for taking it easy—

For a ride that's literally "out of this world," soft and easy as only all-coil springing can make it, yet firm and steady always, thanks to torque-tube drive—

For handling that is feather-light, for the complete smoothness of Dynaflo Drive as standard equipment, for a whole host of fine-car touches such as rich upholstery materials, flexible-spoke steering wheel, non-glare rear-view mirror, even automatic windshield washers, all included in the price.

Yes, the big question ROADMASTER answers is not how much a really fine car costs, but how little you need to pay to get all that a fine car can give.

Drop in any time on your Buick dealer for a trial ride in a ROADMASTER—and the surprisingly happy news on its delivered prices.

Mother Pleads With Shirley May

MacArthur Message that Truman Ordered Withdrawn

cific. From this line, MacArthur said, "we can dominate with air power every Asiatic port from Vladivostok to Singapore."

A Key Spot
He indicated Formosa was a key spot in this defense line and said "historically, Formosa has been used as a springboard for military aggression directed against areas to the south."

MacArthur said Formosa, if held by the enemy, "could be compared to an unsinkable aircraft carrier and submarine tender ideally located."

He expressed his military views in a cable to the VFW, meeting in its 51st national encampment. The message was read by Clyde A. Lewis, VFW commander in chief.

The general declared that should Formosa fall, it "would constitute an enemy salient in the very center of the defensive perimeter."

"Its military potential would again be fully exploited as the means to breach and neutralize our western Pacific defense system and mount a war of conquest against the free nations of the Pacific basin."

The general said he was voicing his views on Formosa "in view of misconceptions currently being voiced concerning the relationship of Formosa to our strategic potential in the Pacific."

Shift Frontier
He said the last war shifted our strategic frontier "to embrace the entire Pacific ocean which has become a vast moat to protect us as long as we hold it."

MacArthur said we can dominate Asiatic ports from a chain of islands extending in an arc from the Aleutians to the Marianas. He added:

"Any predatory attack from Asia must be an amphibious effort. No amphibious force can be successful with our control of the sea lanes and the air over these lanes in its avenue of advance."

"With naval and air supremacy and modern ground elements to defend bases, any major attack from continental Asia toward us or our friends of the Pacific would come to failure."

"Our line of defense is a natural one and can be maintained with a minimum of military effort and expense. . . . Properly maintained (it) would be an invincible defense against aggression. If we hold this line we may have peace—lose it and war is inevitable."

MacArthur said Formosa now has a concentration of air and naval bases which is "materially greater than any similar concentration of the Asiatic mainland between the Yellow sea and the Strait of Malacca."

Developing Bases

He said further bases can be developed in a relatively short time and that "any enemy force utilizing those installations currently available could increase it 100 per cent the air effort which could be directed against Okinawa as compared to operations based on the mainland."

He said the enemy "at the same time could direct damaging air attacks with fighter type aircraft against friendly installations in the Philippines which are currently beyond the range of fighters based on the mainland. Our air supremacy at once would become doubtful."

Thus, he said, enemy use of Formosa "may rather counterbalance or overshadow the strategic importance of the central and southern flank of the U.S. front line position."

"Formosa in the hands of such an hostile power could be compared to an unsinkable aircraft carrier and submarine tender ideally located to accomplish offensive strategy and at the same time checkmate defense or counter-offense operations by friendly forces based on Okinawa and the Philippines."

In addition, the general said, the enemy could utilize Formosa as a base for short range submarines "to threaten completely sea traffic from the south and interdict all sea lanes in the western Pacific. Submarine blockade by the enemy with all its destructive ramifications would thereby become a virtual certainty."

MacArthur said President Truman's decision of June 27 to defend Formosa "lighted into flame a lamp of hope throughout Asia that was burning dimly toward extinction."

He said "nothing could be more fallacious than threadbare argument by those who advocate appeasement and defeatism in the Pacific that if we defend Formosa we alienate continental Asia. . . . To pursue any other course would be to turn over the fruits of our Pacific victory to a potential enemy. It would shift and future battle area five thousand miles eastward to the coasts of the American continents, our own home coast. . . ."

No Special Rights Desired

On Jan. 5 at a press conference, President Truman said the United States had no desire to obtain special rights or privileges or to establish military bases on Formosa. He also said the U.S. had no intention of utilizing its armed forces to interfere in the situation there at that time.

The statement was widely interpreted then as a clearcut victory of the policy of State Secretary Dean Acheson over Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson.

"The United States government will not provide military aid or advice to Chinese forces on Formosa," the President said.

A week later, Secretary Acheson, in a speech before a national press club luncheon, traced the western defense perimeter of the U.S. and said it ran south through the Ryukyu islands, which lie to the east of Formosa. The next U.S. strongpoint on this perimeter said Acheson, is the Philippines. He skipped Formosa.

Beyond the Ryukyu-Philippine line Acheson said "it must be clear that no person can guarantee the other Asiatic areas against attack."

The Best Vacations Are Spent at Home

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—Every year about vacation time there is a big argument in the Pearson family—not about Senator Taft—but about what to do during our vacation.

The little woman naturally wants to get away from home. For some strange reason she seems to feel she should get away from three meals a day, moths in the piano and musical crickets under the radiator. And with her boy just coming of draft age, she wanted to get off to the Maine woods or the mountains where we could forget about Korea, and the woes of the world.

On the whole I didn't blame her. But being almost as disagreeable in my home as I am to Congressmen, I confess that I put up an argument.

"If we go to some beach resort," said I, "the folks in the hotel lobby will be whispering 'there's that fellow that President Truman called a so-and-so.' Or nice old ladies will be wanting autographs, and every amateur politician in the place will be claiming he can make predictions better than I can, and will want to stay up all night to prove it.

"In brief," I concluded, "it'll be just like Washington."

"But that's your public," replied Mrs. P., "and you know perfectly well down deep in your heart that you wouldn't be happy without your public. If the little girls and the old ladies in hotel lobbies didn't come up and ask for your autograph you'd think you were slipping."

"Now look," I protested, "we have a nice farm in Maryland with the Potomac river flowing right past our front door. Why should we leave it? Let's forget about gallivanting about the country and take life easy at home."

Vacation Cows

Mrs. P. let out something akin to a snort at this.

"You have a deadline every day with a column seven days a week," she said. "Yet now on your vacation you want to take on two deadlines a day—cows!"

"I realize they have to be milked twice a day," I admitted, referring to my prize bovine friends. "But at least they don't ask for your autograph."

"Besides cows don't talk politics," I continued. "And they don't complain—except when you take their calf away. They don't even worry over what you say about them, the way Senator Byrd of Virginia does. And they don't make long-winded speeches like Congressman Jacobs of Indiana."

Maybe I shouldn't have argued so much. I felt guilty about it afterward. Because in the end we settled for—two deadlines a day.

Usually when it comes to such things as Senator Taft, Mrs. P. wins the argument. But this time she suddenly yielded.

"It's your vacation," she said, "and I guess you're entitled to do what you want. So if you want cows, we'll vacation with the cows."

So we did, and on the whole I think Mrs. P. enjoyed it.

Filling the Silo

Of course, she didn't enjoy it when the bull got loose and acted just as bellicose as Senator McCarthy, though his name happens to be Harry Truman. You see, I name the bulls for my various "admirers," one of whom is Senator McKellar. It was with considerable regret this summer that we finally sent Senator McKellar to Baltimore and the sausage factory. I had come to be quite fond of the old Senator; but like his namesake from Tennessee, he had become quite ornery, and we had to ship him off.

I admit also that Mrs. P. probably didn't get any vacation thrill over my filling the silo. In the old days when labor was so scarce we had to use German prisoners, she used to help out by driving a truck. But this summer, thanks to a new Holland forage crop harvester, we got the silo filled in no time, and she didn't have to help.

A few years ago, we used to spend a week of backbreaking toil, cutting down corn, stooping over to pick up the bundles, loading it on trucks and feeding it into an ensilage cutter. But this year thanks to the forage crop harvester, the crop was automatically picked up in the field, chewed into fine bits, spewed into trucks and then blown up into the silo. Instead of twenty men for a week, we used six men for four days. That's what labor-saving machinery has done to the farm.

However, Mrs. P. did have quite a time with her dog, which finally brought forth two pups, compared with my cat which had three kittens. And farm life was not entirely dull. We took in a swell movie, "The Lawless"; sued Fred Hower, the attorney general of California for $500,000 (he having sued me for $300,000); and entertained King Peter of Yugoslavia, a very democratic little guy who was just as courteous in meeting our cook as in meeting a Senator.

Oh, yes, I forgot to say that in order not to be too hardhearted, I took Mrs. P. up to Long Island where we took in the trotting races at George Morton Levy's beautiful Roosevelt raceway, visited my old boss, Herbert Bayard Swope, and my old student, Ernest Cuneo, went sailing on the sound and relaxed generally.

Canoe Trip

But I think the best part of the vacation was the Sunday when I took Mrs. P. on a canoe trip up the old Chesapeake and Ohio canal, dug 120 years ago, long before the railroads, to connect Washington with the Ohio river and the Mississippi. Starting from in front of our house, we paddled up to Seneca, where the canal barges once transhipped their cargoes, then returned down the bosom of the Potomac—a most turbulent bosom at that point with so many rapids that we spent half the time in the water rather than in the canoe.

I confess that the war news from Korea hung like a cloud over much of our vacation. But out on that historic river where you could see no sign of human habitation, you could almost forget that two parts of the world were tearing at each other's throats; forget what a mess man has made of modern civilization.

Almost, but not quite. Gone from the Potomac were the sharpened poles which once pointed down toward the river on the Maryland side to keep the Johnny rebs from crossing from Virginia. But still present on the river bank were the stone embankments reminding us of a war just as bloody as that in Korea, where brothers and cousins of the north and south battled against each other—a grim reminder that wars seem to continue as long as man is man.

Well, that was our vacation, which I think Mrs. P. enjoyed reasonably well—especially the canoe trip that cost only fifty cents. And I came back, still the incurable optimist, hoping that some day wars can be stopped and that the debacle in Korea may be one faltering step toward stopping them.

Malik's Propaganda Tactics Backfire as UN Punches Back

By Bruce Blossart

Jacob Malik, Russia's representative on the United Nations Security Council, was trained in "political sabotage" at the University of Moscow's Diplomacy School.

Since Aug. 1 he has been trying to show the world what an apt pupil he was, his presidency of the Council during August being marked by the most bold-faced obstruction ever practiced in any international organization.

Malik has dropped all pretense of observing even the most elementary rules of Council procedure. His purpose is to see that the Council does not function, rather than to guide its deliberations wisely—as a president should.

The first thought of other Council representatives, once Malik's tactics became clear, was to devise some strategy that would break his cynical filibuster. It was decided, however, to forego that idea and simply meet him on his own ground; in other words, to out-filibuster him.

That choice made sense. Malik and his bosses in the Kremlin probably believed their maneuvers to convert the Security Council into the voice of Russia were pretty clever. Actually, they have backfired. Even fence-sitters like India are disgusted at the ruthless Soviet effort to block the will of the free nations.

Delegates representing the United States, Britain, France, Norway, Ecuador, and other nations, have taken off the kid gloves and dealt with the Russians in the rough manner they deserve. They have repeatedly scored telling blows, exposing the Soviet technique of reversing the truth to blame other nations for her own sins. Jean Chauvel, the French delegate, summed up Malik's method by saying the Russian "tells us this table is a chair, and then repeats it a hundred times."

As long as the Security Council's awful August is to be nothing but a propaganda slugging match, the non-Communist countries could well go further toward discrediting Russia's fraudulent claims to being a peace-loving nation.

For example, Malik told the Council the North Koreans' Russian-made arms consisted wholly of material bought from the Soviet forces when they withdrew from that area in 1948. We already had pictures of Russian-made shells dated 1950, seized by the U.S. Army from North Korean troops. Now come reports that more shells, some grenades and other weapons of recent Soviet manufacture have been captured. This material is being turned over to UN observers in Korea possibly for shipment to Lake Success.

Not only should it be sent to UN headquarters, but a couple of 1950 Russian grenades ought to be placed on the Security Council table smack in front of Malik. So far, this August performance at Lake Success has been a battle of words. Malik is never at a loss for words to combat somebody else's words.

But he might find it extremely difficult to talk with one of his own grenades staring him in the face and calling him a liar every second of the way.

SETTLING DOWN IN GOD

We have seen that you must not try to get merely a foothold in life by techniques of relaxation, but a root-hold in the nature of Reality. Only then can you be unshakably calm and poised. Unless you can trust and surrender to the nature of Reality and believe in it through thick and thin, you have no secret of victory. "How did you like the airplane ride?" was asked a nervous man who went up for the first time. "Very well," he replied, "but I never did put my whole weight down." There can be no enjoyment of an airplane ride, or of this larger journey through life, unless you learn to put your whole weight down. Obviously there is nothing, absolutely nothing, upon which you can put your whole weight down, except God.

Those who refuse to do as the Quakers suggest—"settle down in God," or "center down in God"—but keep their troubles and disappointments in their own hands, are frustrated. The most frustrated, disrupted woman I know is a woman who believes that if she should let go and turn over these frustrations to God her universe would go to pieces. She has to hold it together, and is intensely and pathetically trying to do so. One of the most nervous and frustrated men I know is a man who feels that if he did not worry about the matter of his wife's business affairs they would go to pieces. His wife is poised and able and more business like than he is; but it satisfies his self-respect to think he is holding their world together by his worrying. The fact is that his worrying nervousness is self-defeating and is making him a problem to himself—and to others. All the attention given to the nerves of these two people will be in vain unless at the center they let go and let God—unless they surrender in complete confidence to the will of God, and live and work as joyous children in line with that will.

O God, how can I be assured and relaxed unless I am sure that I am completely and utterly committed to Thy goodness and Thy power? Forgive my little antics of self-dependence—how invariably they let me down! Let me live on God-dependence, working out purposes not my own. Then shall I live in Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Q. and A.

You the Service

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the fourth of a question-and-answer series that tells how the Korean war affects reservists, veterans, draft-age men, and anyone likely to be called to service. The author, a member of the Washington staff of NEA Service, conducted a widely-read column on "Your GI Rights" in the months following World War II. He will answer questions only in this space, not by mail.)

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Q. My son is under 25. Yet he served for a short time in the Army during World War II. Can he be drafted?

A. If a man served honorably a year or more between Sept. 16, 1940, and June 24, 1948, he is not liable for service, nor is he liable if he served honorably for more than 90 days during the shooting war—that is between Dec. 7, 1941, and Sept. 2, 1945. If he served honorably between Sept. 16, 1940, and June 24, 1948, for more than 90 days, but less than a year, he is conditionally deferred if he is in one of the organized reserve units.

Q. I failed several subjects in high school last year because I was out sick a lot. I will be a junior this fall. Can they draft me because my grades weren't very good?

A. Technically, yes. But yours is a borderline case to be decided by your draft board.

Q. I've received my draft notice. But I planned to finish my last year in college. And I was taking ROTC. Can they draft me anyway?

A. If you have shown your intention in any way of returning to college for your final year this fall you are deferrable, regardless of your ROTC.

Q. I support my aged mother. Can I be drafted?

A. Not if you can prove to your board that you contribute the major part of your mother's support.

Q. Is there any appeal to a report for active duty to the Marine Corps?

A. Yes, to the Marine Corps itself.

Q. I'm a conscientious objector. Do I have to register for the draft?

A. Yes. But you can ask for deferment on that ground in your questionnaire.

The Doctor Says—

Little Leprosy in the U. S.; Facts Disprove Superstitions

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Leprosy has never been a serious problem in the United States, although the disease is fairly common in other parts of the world including China, India, Africa, and parts of Russia, Spain, Portugal and the Scandinavian countries. In the United States there have never been more than 500 cases of the disease reported at any one time and the six leproariums house only about 950.

Leprosy, or Hansen's disease, as some prefer to call it, should not cause any particular fear in spite of the ancient superstitions. Furthermore, it is time to change the attitude toward those who have leprosy and stop considering them outcasts from society as was the case during the middle ages.

In recent years a hopeful outlook with regard to treatment has developed. This is principally because of the work of the United States Public Health Service at the Federal Hospital for patients with leprosy at Carville, La. Several drugs, technically known as sulfones, have been developed which seem to have real value in the treatment of leprosy. This is good news indeed.

The danger of becoming infected by ordinary contact with a patient with leprosy is slight. This disease cannot be easily acquired and it is spread exceedingly slowly—in fact, there is some question even of this—from person to per-

Reserved Seat

THE STORY: A wave of dog poisonings causes high feeling in the small town where Doc Fortson, who tells the story, runs the leading pharmacy. Evidence points to Roger Blesser, a postman who is afraid of dogs. The climax comes when Greta, seeing-eye dog of Tom Carson, blind insurance man, succumbs. Fortson talks to Roger, who denies poisoning dogs and who didn't know what people were saying about him. Roger says he was nearly killed by a dog when he was a child and can't get over his fear of them.

ALL the time I rearranged the prescription slips and bottled the routine medications my mind worried over the poisonings like a hound with a ham bone. Which reminded me that I hadn't had any breakfast myself. My pharmacy serves breakfasts, good ones with special home-made strawberry jam, but I was nervous and decided I needed a change. So I left the joint in the soda boy's hands again and went to the cafe down the street to tie into some bacon and eggs.

As I stepped off the curb, a big sedan swooped around the corner. I leaped back out of the way, slamming against a lamp post and felt my slacks rip on a rough corner of the service plate. I caught a flash of Grace Muchmore, her face working and wet with tears holding Ching in one arm like a baby, as she drove with the other.

I watched the car turn into the veterinary hospital drive and I was pretty sure that the Pekinese was the latest victim of the dog poisoner.

I didn't feel like any breakfast after that and besides I had to go home for another pair of trousers to replace those I'd torn. On Elm Street I saw Roger coming in from delivering his mail route. He walked like an old man, his head hunched between his shoulders and his steps dragging and hopeless. Although he didn't know it yet, he was in a worse plight than before.

He must have stopped at Mrs. Muchmore's because I remembered the smallish package addressed to her that I'd put back into his leather bag after Tom had pushed him down and spilled the mail—that was opportunity Ching had bitten Roger the day before—that was motive. And if that grouchy little Pekinese died, Grace Muchmore was influential enough to heave the book at Roger—that was certain.

Just then I heard a commotion from Miss Myra's house.

EVERYONE'S had one of those super nightmares where he is caught between the devil and high water with a weight tied to each leg. What I saw gave me the same feeling. It was just like a bad dream. I knew what was going to happen but I couldn't get there fast enough to do anything about it.

Jimmy Joe was coming out of his home next door and there was a movement beside Miss Myra's porch. It was that great big seeing-eye dog—who should have been dead. Greta, the dog, was staggering to her feet, lunging and yelping.

I started to run, sure that the dog would tear Jimmy Joe to pieces. It was plain to me that Greta had had enough poison to lay her out cold, but because she's such a big dog, the dose hadn't been fatal. Right now she looked like the Hound of the Baskervilles snapping and frothing and running in crazy circles.

Jimmy Joe stood, wide-eyed and frightened. "Oh, the poor thing! She's sick!" he exclaimed and started toward Greta.

Roger must have seen the boy and the dog about the same time I did because he was already running toward Miss Myra's place.

As afraid as he was of a dog, and probably thinking that Greta had risen from the dead with a case of infernal hydrophobia, he yelled:

"Stay away from her, Jimmy Joe! Get on the porch! Run into the house!"

But Jimmy Joe wasn't taking any advice from that "ole mailman."

By the time he realized that something was wrong, Greta whirled toward him and it was too late. Boy and dog went down together.

New Hope For Victims
Isolation from others after diagnosis is made is generally recommended, but the contagiousness is so slight that the states of New York and Vermont do not even require that the disease be reported and Massachusetts does not have any restrictions concerning isolation of patients.

New hope has therefore entered the outlook for the victims of leprosy. Sure and complete cure will almost certainly come and when it does, the recovered victims of this disease should be taken back into society without fear. Alarm about leprosy has been given too much prominence because of the hysterical attitude of our ancestors of the middle ages. This is not justified by the present day facts.

ROME —(AP)— A $40,000,000 home-building assistance program designed to ease Italy's war-born housing shortage was approved by the Parliament on the eve of adjournment for the summer vacation.

Under the measure, $16,000,000 will be available to private builders during the remainder of 1950 and $17,000,000 a year during 1951 and 1952. The measure specifies that houses or apartments have a minimum of two and a maximum of five rooms (in Italy the kitchen and bath are not counted as rooms).

Persons owning adequate living quarters are excluded from the benefits of the measure.

At Last! It's Now Possible To TREAT THE CAUSE of YOUR NEURITIS ACHES and PAINS

Sometimes Called RHEUMATISM PAINS

Due to Vitamin B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron Deficiencies

HADACOL—One of the Greatest Medical Blessings of the Times!

A Big Improvement Is Often Noticed Within a Few Days' Time!

We are delighted to tell the readers of this paper about the wonderful new treatment which is bringing such radiant hope to such sufferers. Because now you no longer have to go on taking products which merely bring you temporary relief from the cruel, stabbing neuritis aches and pains when the REAL CAUSE is because your system is deficient in the important Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.

Now, thanks to the wonderful new HADACOL treatment, you can get right after and treat the cause of these miserable aches and pains—often called rheumatism pains—due to such deficiencies.

How HADACOL Works
HADACOL supplies deficient systems not only with extra quantities of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin but also helpful amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese—elements so vital to maintain physical fitness. Remember, if you suffer from such deficiencies which are causing your pain—there's no medicine, drug or treatment that will relieve the deficiency condition except the taking of the vital elements found in this HADACOL formula.

Be fair to yourself. Be fair to your family. Why continue to suffer so and drag yourself around when relief is as close at hand as the nearest drugstore? Start the great HADACOL treatment today. It's inexpensive—costs only a few pennies a day.

And one of the many wonderful advantages of the HADACOL treatment is that continued use helps keep such miserable aches and pains from returning. Trial-size bottle, only $1.19. Large family or hospital size, $3.39.

Why HADACOL Comes in Special Liquid Form

—Why It Reaches Every Part of Your Body

Vitamins and minerals to be absorbed by the blood must be in soluble or emulsion form. That's why HADACOL comes in this special liquid form so that its precious elements are more easily and quickly absorbed and assimilated by the blood stream—ready to go to work at once. HADACOL even helps build up and fortify your red blood cells (where iron is needed) to carry these precious health-building vitamins and minerals to every organ and part of your body.

Often within a few days' time a remarkable improvement is noticed! Because remember—you are now treating the REAL CAUSE of such deficiency aches and pains.

Sold on a Strict Money-Back Guarantee

If after taking HADACOL for a reasonable period of time, you don't notice a great improvement in the way you feel—if you aren't experiencing amazing results—your money will be refunded. Could you ask for anything fairer? You stand to gain simply wonderful benefits—and you can't lose one penny. It's your own fault if you continue to suffer so.

OBITUARIES

Edward Jacob Fry

Edward Jacob Fry, who passed away on Tuesday, August 22, at Stover, Mo., was a former postmaster there and his son, Jacob Edward Fry, now holds that office.

Mr. Fry, son of Mary Catherine Lucke and Randolph David Fry, was born March 10, 1878, at Monroe City, Monroe county, Mo. At the age of fifteen the family moved to Morgan county. Mr. Fry has resided in and around Stover for the past fifty-seven years.

He was married to Mattie Beulah Ziegler, February 2, 1908. To this union was born five children, two sons and three daughters.

He united with the Salem Baptist church while still a young man. He later transferred his membership to the First Baptist church of Stover where he remained a member until his death.

For many years he was a prominent farmer and stockman. Moving to Stover in 1922 he served as the manager of the local Farmers Exchange and was very active in the Missouri Farmers Association. In 1935 he was appointed postmaster at Stover. Two years ago he retired as postmaster, and since then has had time to relax and enjoy working around the home he loved so much.

During his many years in and near Stover, Mr. Fry performed many services for the people of this community. For many years he served as a member of the school board, was superintendent of the First Baptist church of Stover, and had an active interest in the Modern Woodman of America. He made many acquaintances during the years he operated a threshing unit throughout Morgan county.

He was preceded in death by his parents and one grandson.

He is survived by his wife, Mattie Beulah; two sons, Jacob E. Fry of Stover, and Charles R. Fry of Paola, Kas.; three daughters, Noela Jane and Viola Irvin of Buckner, and Millie J. Holten of Brentwood, Ark.; a foster sister, Mrs. Annie Huffman of Leeton, Mo.; four grandchildren and five grandsons; and a host of relatives and friends.

Tenna G. Wells

Tenna G. Wells, 71, died Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at his home south of Centertown. He had been in poor health for several years. He suffered a heart attack Friday night. He was born seven miles south of California, Mo., May 23, 1879, the son of John and Sallie Wells.

He was married to Miss May Rhodes at the Cole Spring church near Russellville, July 29, 1903. They lived near Latham until 1909 and moved to Russellville in 1935. He was a member of the Pilot Grove Baptist church and moved his membership to the Centertown Baptist church when they moved there.

He is survived by his wife, three daughters, Mrs. Sherman Heidbreder of California, Mo., Miss Crystal and Goldie Wells of the home; one brother J. W. Wells of near California, Mo.; two half brothers, Ray and Luther Wells of Clarksburg; two half sisters, Mrs. Lelia Robertson and Mrs. Earl Donnelly of Centertown.

Funeral services were held at the Wilson funeral home at 2:00 o'clock this afternoon. Burial will be in the Centertown cemetery.

Charles F. Matthews

Charles Franklin Matthews, 72, died at his home in LaMonte Saturday night. He had been seriously ill for a week. He was the eldest son of the late M. C. and Sara Houchen Matthews. He was born December 11, 1877 near Houstonia.

He was married to Beulah Settles March 26, 1901 in LaMonte by the Rev. T. C. Puckett. He is survived by his wife; three daughters, Mrs. I. C. Bobbitt of Warrensburg, Mrs. Terry Files of LaMonte, and Mrs. Albert Ward of Holden, and five grandchildren; two brothers, T. J. Matthews of Holden, and Dus Matthews of Chilhowee.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the LaMonte Methodist church. The Rev. Wesley Hampton of Warsaw will officiate, assisted by the Rev. E. C. Wright of LaMonte. Music is in charge of Mrs. Robert Burke. Songs will be "The Old Rugged Cross," "Abide With Me" and "A Perfect Day."

Pallbearers will be Raymond Wasson, Higgins Warren, John Comfort, Hampton Haggard, John Stalhut and Guy Ballew. Honorary pallbearers will be Frank

Five Held In Gang Roundup

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Five young men are being held for investigation following their arrests Saturday night and yesterday and the seizure of a quantity of weapons by county officers.

Jackson County Sheriff J. A. Purdome said last night the arrests completed the roundup of a gang that had committed six hold-ups. Seized with the men, Purdome said, was a small arsenal that included five pistols, two revolvers, a rifle, a sawed-off shotgun and ammunition.

The sheriff said the men admitted holding up a tavern, a filling station, a man at his home and robberies of persons in three parked cars since Aug. 19.

Purdome identified the man as Calvin McNeal, 23; Loren M. Young, 20; Lee Brown, 19; Gene Manning, 18, all of Kansas City, and Joe St. Clair, 26, who lives near Blue Springs.

New Booklet On Ozarks Region

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A new recreational booklet on the Central Ozarks area of Missouri has been published by the state division of resources and development. First copies were distributed today.

Like the others in the series on different regions of Missouri, the Central Ozarks booklet is full of colored and black and white pictures. They tell the story of Gasconade and Big Piney watersheds, with their hills, forests and springs.

The area includes Osage, Maries and Pulaski counties and parts of Gasconade, Cole, Phelps, Texas, Webster, Dallas, Laclede, Camden and Miller counties.

Gerald Massie of the resources and development staff took most of the pictures in the 36-page booklet.

Directed To Withdraw Statement

to Formosa, the President directed that the statement prepared by General MacArthur on this subject be withdrawn.

Asked whether MacArthur might be relieved of his command as a result of the incident, Ross said, "the incident is closed."

"No Misunderstanding"

Simultaneously with the announcement of Mr. Truman's action, the White House released a letter from the president to Warren Austin, U. S. representative in the United Nations. This restated the United States position with reference to Formosa so that there will be "no misunderstanding."

Mr. Truman's stated policy is that Formosa must be neutralized so far as the Korean war is concerned, but this country will make no commitment other than to block any invasion attempt during the current crisis.

The White House did not elaborate on the letter Mr. Truman sent to Austin but a White House authority told reporters:

"In the field of foreign relations there can be only one voice in stating the position of the United States. This is regarded as being of fundamental constitutional importance."

Ross was informed that a number of newspapers were printing MacArthur's message despite its withdrawal.

Ross would not say what he thinks other papers should do. "Every editor will have to be guided by his own judgement," he said.

In talking with reporters, Ross also discussed another week end incident—a speech by secretary of the navy Matthews that the United States must be compelled to go to war if necessary to compel other nations to cooperate for peace.

This suggestion of a "preventive war" was disavowed Saturday by the State Department.

Today, Ross said Mr. Truman had talked by telephone with Matthews.

Ross would not say what took place in that conversation but he did say "that incident is closed, too."

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.), who has been critical of Far Eastern policy, got out a statement accusing the administration of "gagging" MacArthur. He called this "another in a long series of efforts to keep the truth from the American people."

Try To Tighten Trade Controls

going through to the Soviets.

The first important move along this line is expected to be taken by Secretary of State Acheson when he meets with British Foreign Minister Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman in New York, September 12.

Recently word got out here that a shipment of about 50 tons of the steel hardening metal molybdenum, exported from the United States to Britain was then transhipped to the Soviet Union. Learning of this the Commerce Department cancelled the license which would have permitted shipment of a large additional quantity.

On another phase of the same problem, former Prime Minister Winston Churchill declared in a political speech in Britain that a British factory was turning out tools suitable for the repair of tanks for the Russians.

The export control system is very loosely organized. American officials have never been satisfied with the extent to which Western European governments, needing trade with the east and finding it profitable, were willing to cooperate in denying Russia certain types of goods.

Ten Million More To Get Age Benefits

age benefit program and begin paying payroll taxes next January 1. Persons now retired will start getting bigger checks a few weeks hence, in October.

The new law also more than doubles payroll taxes over the next 20 years, to help pay for the larger benefits. The payroll taxes will increase from $2,500, 000,000 this year to about $7, 800,000,000 in 1970.

COVERAGE—The number of workers under old age and survivors insurance—is increased from 35,000,000 to 45,000,000. New groups brought under the program include 5,000,000 self-employed persons, such as businessmen, barbers, filling station operators; 1,000,000 regularly employed household servants; 750,000 regularly employed farm workers. The bill also offers coverage to other groups including state and city government employees, workers for non-profit organizations and employees of publicly owned transit systems.

Housewives and farmers must pay payroll taxes for the people they hire on a regular basis, just like other employers.

BENEFITS — About 3,000,000 persons now receiving benefits—retired persons and survivors of insured persons—will get larger checks beginning October 1. The increases will average 7½ per cent over present benefit payments. Increases for persons yet to retire range up to 100 per cent.

The maximum benefit for a family is boosted from $85 to $150 a month. The minimum benefit for an individual is raised from $10 to $20. The average benefit for individuals now retired will go from $26 to $46.

TAXES—The present 1½ per cent payroll tax, assessed on employees' pay and employers' payroll, goes to 2 per cent on each in 1954, to 2½ per cent in 1960, to 3 per cent in 1965, and to 3½ per cent on each in 1970. The tax, beginning January 1, 1951, will be on the first $3,600 of a worker's pay. It now is on the first $3,000—so the maximum tax under the present rates will jump from $45 to $54.

In the case of the self-employed the tax on the first $3,600 of their income will be 1½ times as much as for others under the program. This is because they have no employer to match the tax on their pay, as is the case of one person who works for another.

Ralph M. Carrel Opens Clinic

Ralph M. Carrel, a clinical chemist for almost 25 years, has opened the Carrel Clinical Laboratory at 118 West Third street, and is now operating same.

Carrel, who has been in Sedalia since January 1, 1927, has for many years been in charge of the Lattimore Laboratory located in the Bothwell hospital, and he will now continue to carry on this work in his new location.

He is a member of the American Association of Clinical Chemists, a senior member of the American Chemists Society, member of the American Public Health Association, member Missouri Public Health Association, also vice-chairman of the laboratory section, member American Society Medical Technologists and Missouri Society Medical Technologists.

Pettis County 4-H'ers Win Kem Trophy

Get Permanent Possession After Third Success

Pettis County 4-H'ers had the honor of being awarded the Senator Kem trophy for the third time at the State Fair this year, thereby gaining permanent possession of this coveted symbol of achievement. This trophy, awarded annually to the county with the outstanding exhibit of 4-H livestock by Senator James Kem was the first won by Pettis County 4-H'ers in 1947, and again won in 1948, but was lost to Jackson County in 1949. By winning it again last week the boys and girls now have permanent possession of this trophy which they have come to think of as belonging to Pettis County club members.

Thirty-seven 4-H'ers from Pettis County contributed to the success of the Pettis County exhibit of livestock by showing 110 head of animals which they raised in their 4-H projects. These animals were first shown in the junior division at the fair and then all blue ribbon animals were later shown in the open classes in competition with breeders of established reputations.

In the swine division 12 boys and girls sowed 56 head of pigs with the Poland China breed leading in numbers shown. In the Poland China Junior sow pig class R. D. Kahrs of the Smithton 4-H Club and Clinton Reid of the Prairie Ridge Club each showed blue ribbon animals. Red ribbon sow pigs were shown by Mary Lee Kahrs of Smithton, Clinton, Forrest and Barbara Ann Reid of the Prairie Ridge Club, and Howard Brown of South Abell.

Two red ribbons were awarded to R. D. Kahrs and white ribbons were given to Mary Lee Kahrs, Clinton and Barbara Ann Reid for their Poland China Junior boar pigs.

Mary Lee and R. D. Kahrs both received red ribbons and Barbara Ann Reid received a white ribbon on their Poland China breeder-feeder-litter exhibit.

Take Blue Ribbon
In the Poland China single fat barrow class R. D. Kahrs and Clinton Reid both received blue ribbons. R. D.'s blue ribbon barrow took top honors in the open show and was the Grand Champion barrow of the junior division, composed of both F. F. A. and 4-H club animals. Red ribbon barrows were shown by Mary Lee Kahrs, R. D. Kahrs and Barbara Ann Reid. Clinton Reid and Howard Brown received white ribbons for their exhibit of fat barrows.

Clinton Reid and Mary Lee and R. D. Kahrs received red ribbons and Howard Brown a white ribbon on their Poland China pen of 3 barrows.

In the Duroc classes Marion Edmundson of the Flat Creek Club received blue ribbons on both of his junior sow pigs and a red ribbon on his junior boar pig. Mary Hayes, Wilbern Hayes, Jr., and David Fender exhibited Spotted Poland pigs with Mary and David receiving red ribbons and Wilbern white ribbons on their junior sow pigs. In the junior boar class Mary received two blue ribbons, David a blue and a red and Wilbern, Jr., a white ribbon for their Spotted Poland junior boar pigs. David's boar later was judged reserve champion junior boar pig in the open Poland China show.

Willis Gene and Lyonel Charles both showed Chester White pigs, with Willis Gene taking a blue and red ribbon and Lyonel two reds on their junior boar pigs.

In the Chester White junior sow pig class Willis Gene received a blue ribbon and Lyonel received a red ribbon on their gilts. Willis Gene received a blue ribbon and Lyonel a red for their breeder-feeder-litter exhibit and Willis also received a blue ribbon and Lyonel a red on their single fat barrows.

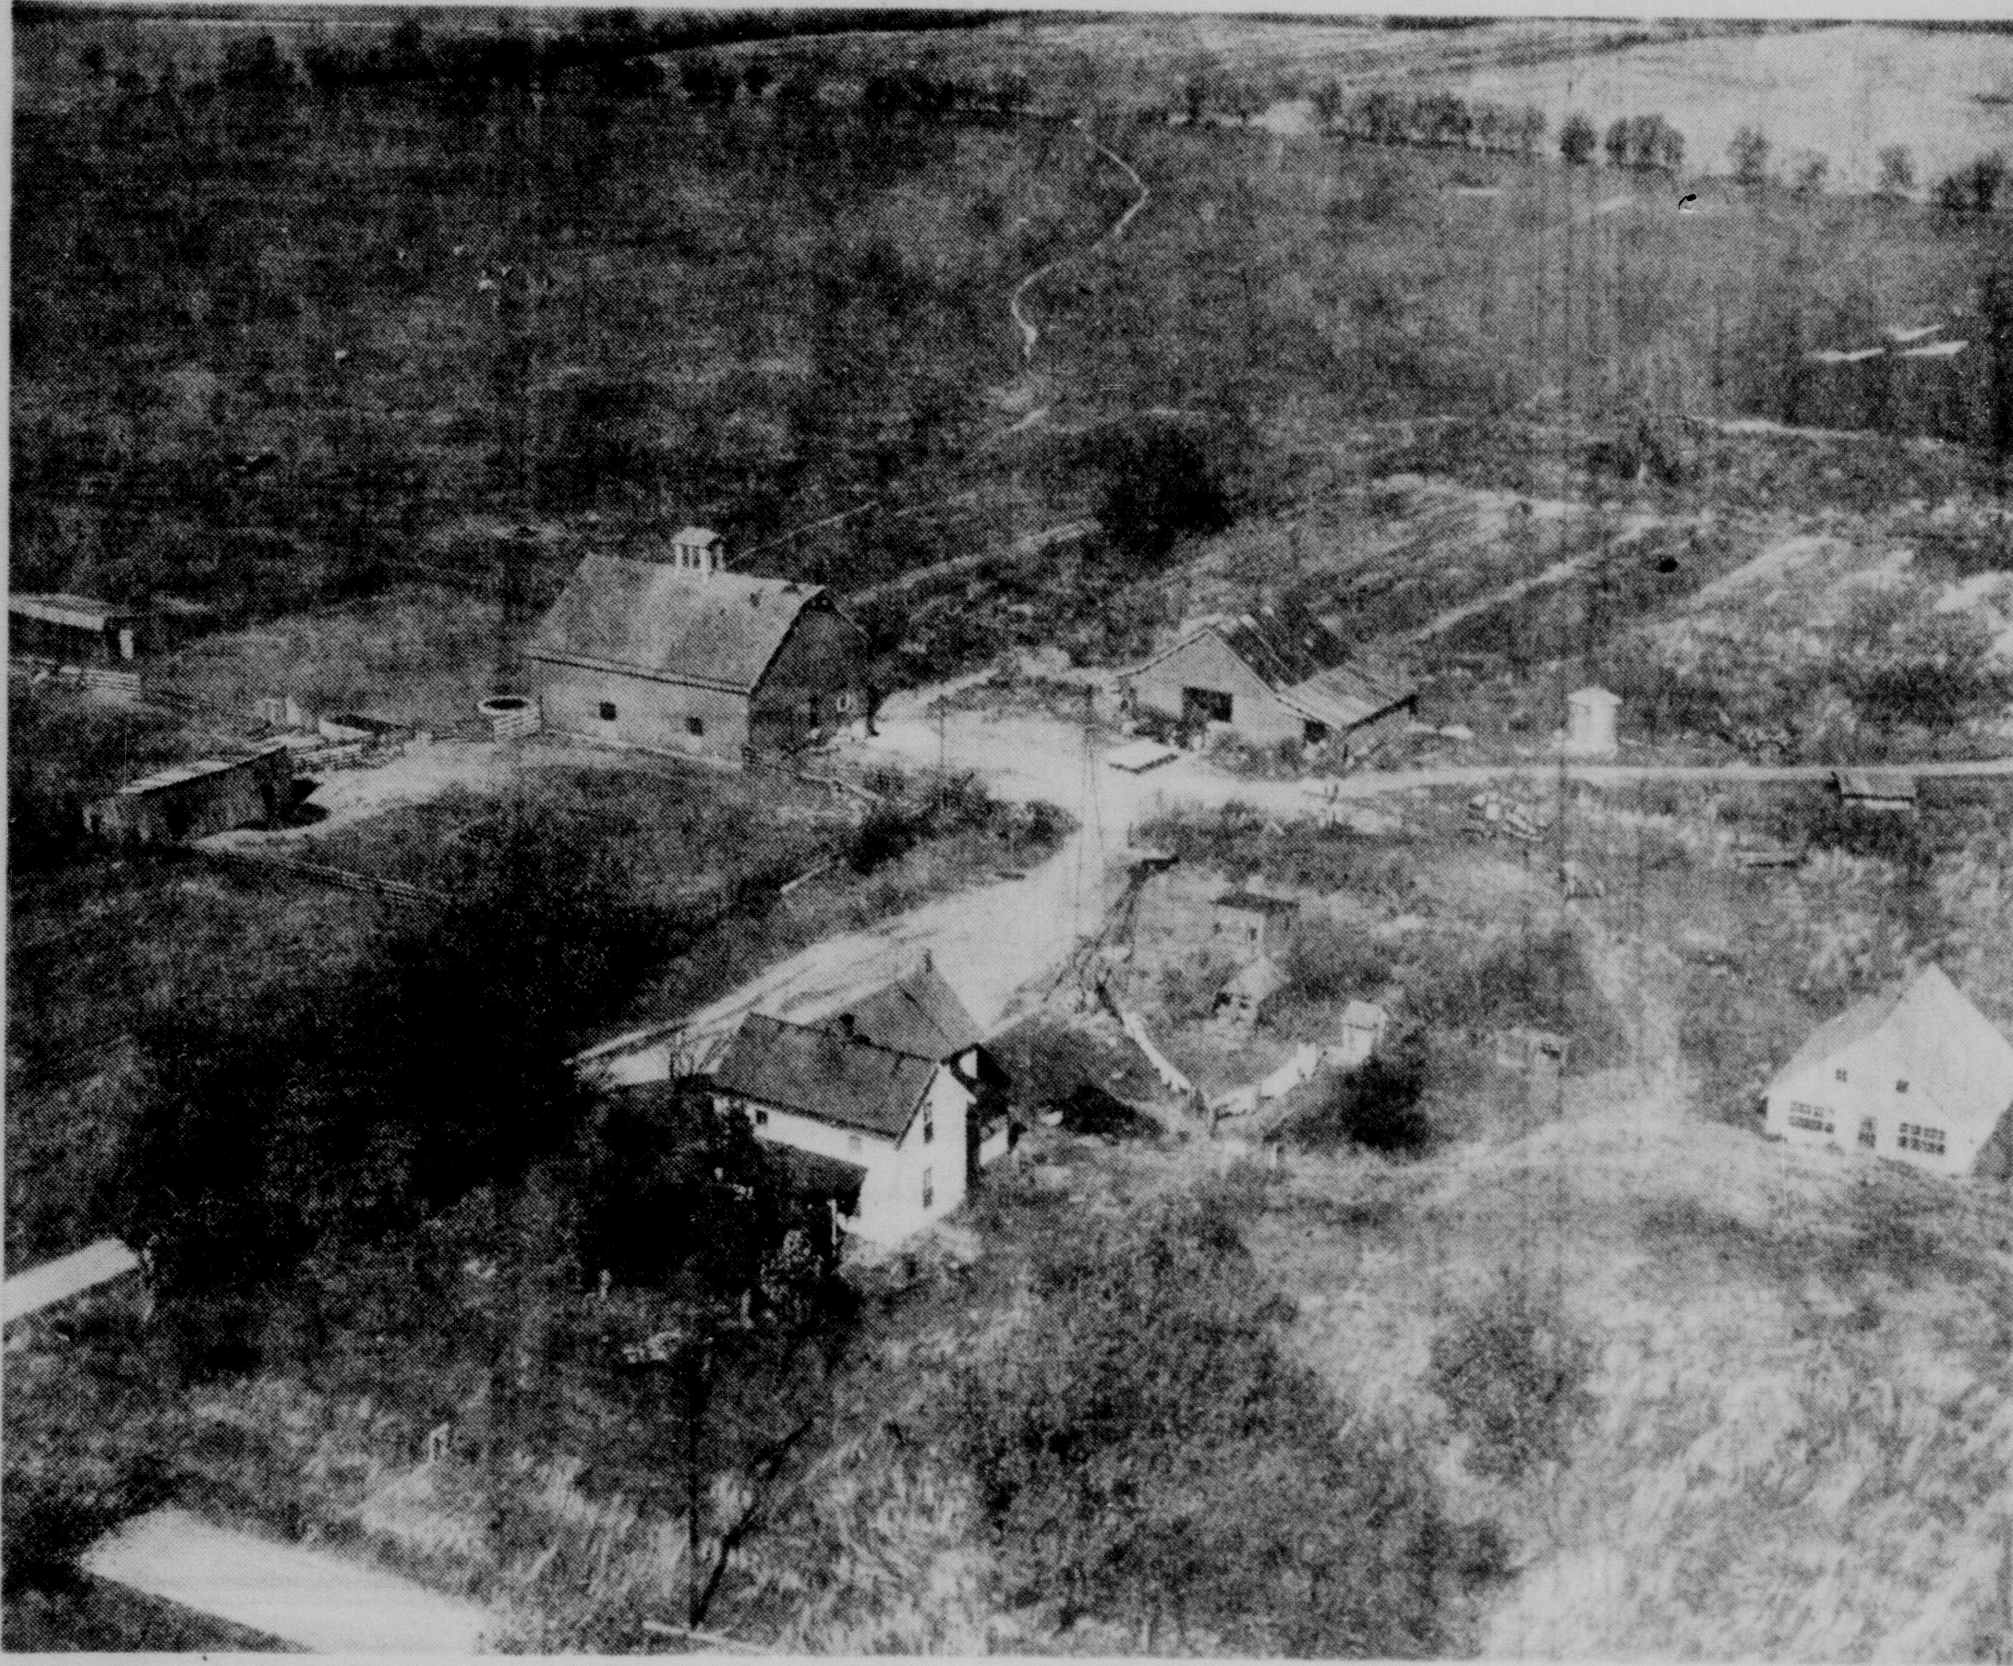

Four Pettis County 4-H'ers showed 12 lambs in the junior sheep show. In the Hampshire breed Larry Gorrell of the Vanatta Club received a blue ribbon on his ewe lamb, and Harry Long of the same club received a red and white ribbon on his two ewe lambs and a white ribbon for his exhibit of a pen of 3 lambs.

Jimmy Reid of the Prairie Ridge club received 4 red ribbons, two on his Oxford ewe lambs and two for his Oxford ram lambs.

Emmett Fairfax of the South Abell Club was awarded a blue and a white ribbon on his South-down ram lambs and two white ribbons on his two ewe lambs.

Steers and Heifers
Nineteen steers and heifers were exhibited by 13 Pettis County 4-H'ers in the beef division with the baby beef fat calf classes leading with 15 animals shown. In the Shorthorn Class, Wayne Templeton of Pleasant Green received red ribbons on both his fat calves and George Harvey of the Longwood

Mystery Farm Pictures in Central Missouri---

Is this your farm?

Most of the readers of the Democrat-Capital have been following this series of weekly Mystery Farm Pictures with considerable interest.

The pictures that appear in this space in Monday's Democrat and Tuesday morning's Capital were taken sometime ago by an aerial photographer. The pictures were not shot with the knowledge of whose farm it was. It was a random job; a picture here and a picture there.

To date there have been over sixty-two Mystery Farm Pictures published, most of which have been claimed by the occupants and owners of the various farms. Yours may be next. Watch for it!

Neighbors Club a white ribbon on his fat calf.

In the Hereford fat calf class Marvin Gibson of the Oak Point Club was awarded a red ribbon, while Lula Mae Gibson of the Beam-Arator Club and Marion Gregory of Prairie Ridge received white ribbons on their fat calves.

Out of the eight Angus fat calves shown, three were judged as blue ribbon calves and the remainder as red ribbon calves. Eleanor Leftwich of the Longwood Neighbors Club received blue ribbons on both her fat calves and Jackie Birdsong of the Beaman-Arator Club received a blue and a red ribbon on his two calves. Jimmy Harvey and Betty Vardeman of the Longwood Neighbors club both received red ribbons on their fat calves as did Aleta Mae Chevalier and Alice Mae Chevalier of the Pleasant Green Club.

The county group of 5 calves shown by Jim Harvey, Clinor Leftwich and Jackie Birdsong received a blue ribbon in the 4-H division and placed 9th in the entire junior fat calf show composed of both F. F. A. and 4-H club animals.

In the beef breeding heifer class, Elinor Van Dyke of the South Abell club and J. D. and Marion Gregory of the Prairie Ridge all received red ribbons on their Hereford heifers.

Fifteen dairy heifers and one bull calf were shown by Pettis County Club members in the junior dairy division. In the Holstein breed, Robert Yeater of the Oak Grove Club received a blue ribbon on his bull calf and in the 4-8 month old Holstein heifer class Robert received one blue and two white ribbons on his three entries, while Olen Monsees, Jr., of the Smithton Club, received a blue ribbon for his heifer. Harry Long was awarded a red ribbon on his junior yearling heifer. The county group of 5 Holsteins was awarded a white ribbon.

In the 4 to 12 month old Jersey heifer class, Tommy Grimes and Eldon O'Neill of the Beaman-Arator Club received blue ribbons, Carl Holman a red ribbon, and George Wilkie and Charles Long white ribbons on their heifer calves. All of these boys but Charles belong to the Beaman-Arator Club. Charles is a member of the Vanatta Club. Marvin Wood and Eldon O'Neill both received red ribbons on their junior yearling heifers. A red ribbon was awarded to Pettis County for the 4-H County group of 5 Jerseys.

Barley Responds To Lime Spread

"I cannot grow good yields of barley." This is a statement that is commonly made by Pettis County farmers, reports the County Extension Office. "What is the reason?"

Barley responds to lime perhaps more than wheat. A good firm seed bed is essential. Barley requires a well drained soil. Much of the Pettis county soil needs an application of both phosphate and potash for high yields.

Experiments with barley at the college on soils somewhat similar to Pettis county soils show the value of potash. In one experiment where potash was included with the phosphate, the yield was 33.2 bushels and with the phosphate alone 18.2 bushels. This was an increase of 14 bushels for 50lb of potash that cost about $2.50. The soil test was 100lb of exchangeable potash (somewhat similar to the potash content of many soils tested in Pettis county).

Also a lack of sufficient potash reduced wheat yields at the college. In one experiment where a 6-24-0 fertilizer was applied, about 95% of the wheat stand was lost through winter starvation—commonly called winter killing. Where a 6-24-24 fertilizer was applied, the number of wheat plants that survived was much greater and the wheat made 20 bushels. On the same soil where the soil test showed about 100lb potash, oat yields were increased 20 bushels per acre where the fertilizer contained potash.

Potash applications are helping legumes too. Stands of red clover timothy, lespedeza, and other legumes seeded in small grains are much better where the fertilizer contained potash. It is even difficult to secure a satisfactory stand of legumes if the soil is not well supplied with this element. The yield of red clover hay was increased nearly 1000lb per acre in 1950 by the addition of potash on the Missouri experimental field at Columbia.

Knowledge of asbestos was lost after the fall of the Roman Empire and the mineral was not rediscovered until 1868.

received white ribbons for their Guernsey junior yearling heifers, while J. D. Schlobohm received red ribbons on his two junior yearling Guernsey heifers.

If you see your farm in the Mystery Farm space, come in and claim your picture at the Democrat-Capital news room on the second floor of the Democrat-attached; it's yours for the asking. Renovate on Fall Pasture

Many of the members of the Pettis County Balanced Farming Association plan to renovate some permanent pasture this fall. However, 4 of them have been to the extension office recently to discuss their plans and their names are fresh in mind.

L. E. Durely of Hughesville has applied raw rock phosphate to 12 acres that he will plow under on the contour. The lime will be disced in and then a top dressing will be added with the seed. He had the soil tested recently.

Dr. P. Dyer plans to seed down 16 acres of permanent pasture on his farm near Ionia. It adjoins a field in which he seeded fescue and ladino clover this spring.

John Ryan will renovate 20 acres in a pasture which was nearly overgrown with hedge trees only 2-3 years ago. The clearing was done with a portable saw and now the whole pasture can be mowed. Mr. Ryan plans to plow the ground on the contour with a disc plow.

Fred Harsch of Smithton had a timbered ridge cleared with a bulldozer this spring. He plans to renovate it and seed it to permanent pasture this fall. It is already plowed. It is worthy of note that this field only needs 1 ton of lime per acre according to the soil test.

As mentioned above these are only a few of the Balanced Farming folks who plan to renovate some permanent pasture this fall.

Dairy Heifers Need Early Care

Dairy heifers freshening this fall need good care and training now if they are to do their best after calving.

Heifers need to be in good physical condition. Feeding grain before they freshen is advisable in many cases. The regular dairy ration will do. And if the pastures are short the young bossy will need some hay.

The areas of volcanic activity are mostly where continent and ocean meet, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

H. P. Acker resides. The farm, located three miles east of Windsor, on highway 52, is one of several owned by Mr. Bowen.

On the 160 acres Mr. Acker does general farming and has registered white faced cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Acker have three children, Ruth, Walter and Kenneth. He belongs to the M. F. A. and Mrs. Acker to the W. P. F. A.

Save Stored Grain From Moth

The anguimois grain moth, so costly to Missouri corn growers last year, has returned again as a hazard to corn, small grain and even popcorn stored in the home. Virgil Burk, Missouri University entomologist, reports wide infestation from the Iowa line southward.

Fumigation, he says, is the most effective protection against this pest.

First, mix 1 pound of 50% wettable DDT in 3 gallons of water and spray the sides of the bin and underside of roof. This will kill many of the moths.

Then, sprinkle a good fumigant over the grain after it is leveled. A 3 to 1 mixture of ethylene dichloride and carbon tetrachloride is effective. Or a 1 to 4 mixture of carbon disulfide and carbon tetrachloride will do the job.

It will take about 3 gallons of either of these recommended fumigants for each 1,000 bushels of grain in steel bins. Twice that much, or 6 gallons will be needed for 1000 bushels in wooden bins. Of course, the temperature should exceed 70 degrees before the treatment is applied.

The fumigant is in the form of a liquid, but when applied it turns to a gas. This gas works its way down through the grain, killing all insects as well as mice and rats.

Price Support For The 1951 Wheat Crop

National Average Be Not Less Than $1.99 Per Bushel

A national average price support of not less than $1.99 a bushel for 1951-crop wheat was announced recently by Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan. This is the same as the support level now in effect for the 1950 crop.

Support for the 1951 crop is announced at this time in accordance with applicable legislation that support for field crops be announced in advance of the planting season. Winter wheat seeding for the 1951 crop will soon be underway and therefore announcement of the 1951 wheat support level has to be made well in advance of announcement of support levels on other 1951 crops. As the planting season approaches for spring-seeded 1951 crops, consideration will be given to the individual situation confronting each crop and support levels will be announced based upon such considerations.

Commenting on the announcement, Secretary Brannan stated that "in view of the world situation it is imperative that our supply of bread grains be maintained in strong position. Ample supplies will be a major factor in assuring reasonable food prices to consumers and our ability to meet our international food obligations. We believe that wheat production and price support programs have been developed to protect the interests of both producers and consumers."

The Agricultural Act of 1949 makes price support mandatory for 1951-crop wheat at 80 to 90 per cent of parity. Secretary Brannan has put the support at 90 per cent to assure an abundant supply of wheat in accordance with acreage allotments announced by this department on July 14. The national allotment for the 1951 crop is 72.8 million acres. With average yields, this acreage would produce an estimated 1150 million bushels as compared with an estimated 1950 crop of 996 million bushels.

The dollars-an-cents support level announced today is based upon the latest parity price information available. If parity is higher at the beginning of the 1951-1952 marketing year, the support will be increased to reflect 90 per cent of parity at that time, but in no event will the support be less than $1.99 a bushel as a national average. (This announcement is in accordance with the "Forward Pricing" provisions of Sec. 406 of the Agricultural Act of 1949, which stipulates that the advance level of price support "shall not exceed" the estimated maximum level of price support specified in the Act, but "shall not be reduced" if the actual maximum is less than the estimated level announced at this time.)

Price support by means of loans and purchase agreements will be available on the 1951 crop from time of harvest through January 31, 1952, to farmers who comply with their acreage allotments. The loans will mature April 30, 1952, or earlier on demand, and producers who deliver wheat under a purchase agreement must notify their county committee within a 30-day period ending April 30, 1952. No farm-storage payment will be made to the producer. CCC

Fall Feeders Day On September 12

Hog breeding and feeding will highlight the fall livestock feeders day at the University of Missouri, which has been set for September 12.

A full report will be given on the station's experience with feeding Animal Protein Factors to hogs. Also to be given will be a full report on the testing of Missouri's two main lines of inbred hogs—and the latest information on hog carcasses.

Nearly 180 pigs have been used to test APF; 400 have been used in the breeding work; and 60 have been used in obtaining information on carcasses.

The feeders' day program will also include reports on other types of livestock. Pettis County usually has a good sized delegation at this worthwhile meeting says the County Extension Office.

will not assume any warehouse charges, except the receiving charges (as set forth in the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement), accruing prior to May 1, 1952. This change in the program from previous years has been made to place wheat on the same basis as

Combs First In Stock Car Meet Sunday

Muddy Track Proves A Handicap To Many In The Time Trials

Art Combs, Emporia, Kas., drove his 1950 Oldsmobile sedan over the tricky half mile dirt track Sunday afternoon at the Missouri State Fair and crossed the finish line almost a half a lap ahead of his nearest opponent to win the 100-lap stock car race.

A capacity crowd was on hand to witness Sedalia's first stock car race in over 20 years. Combs toured the 50 mile distance in 73:06.04.

Bob McKim, Abilene, Kas., also driving a 1950 Olds, took an early lead, but was passed by Combs on the 23rd lap. McKim came back a few laps later to regain the lead, which he held until Combs again passed him as the race neared the halfway mark.

Opens Gap After Taking Lead

Combs then opened a gap of almost a full half mile between his car and McKim. Although McKim threatened several times during the remainder of the race he was unable to catch the brown sedan.

Rodney Clark, Wichita, Kas., placed third driving another 1950 Oldsmobile. Fred South, Salina, Kas., who turned in the fastest time in the qualifying trials, 41.55, drove a 1950 Mercury. South finished fourth in the race.

A field of 37 cars were entered from which the twenty who turned in the fastest time on the qualifying trials, were selected to start the race.

Results of the time trials (six fastest cars)—Fred South, Salina, Kas., :41.55; Bob McKim, Abilene, Kas., :42.68; Bill Harrison, Topeka, Kas., :42.70; Art Combs, Emporia, Kas., :42.70; Rodney Clark, Wichita, Kas., :42.79; and Don White, Keokuk, Iowa, :43.60.

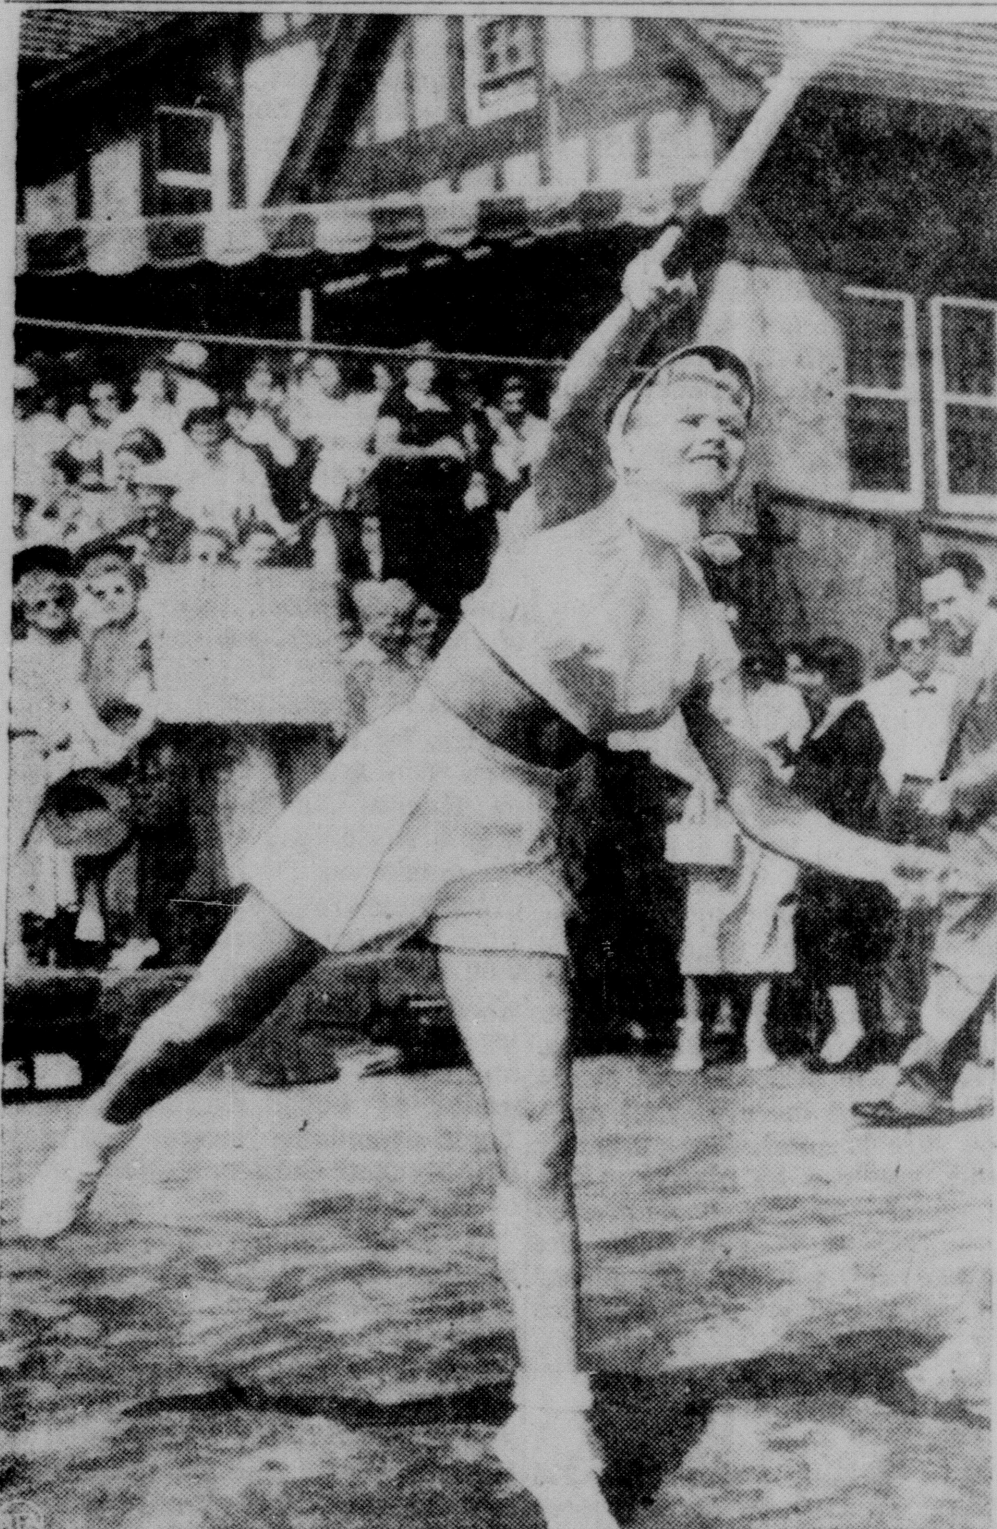

The race was sponsored by the International Motor Contest Association.

Bowling Association Meets At 7:00 Tonight

The fall meeting of the Mens' City Bowling Association will be held tonight at 7:00 o'clock in the Elks building. The leagues will be reorganized after the regular association business.

All teams wishing to be placed in the leagues, as well as individual bowlers seeking team positions, can be placed by attending the meeting.

The league season will open on Tuesday, Sept. 5 with the ladies' league. Mens' leagues will swing into action later in the week.

Burton's Girls Play Tonight

The Burton's girl softball team will play the Clinton Cuties in a game tonight at Center park. The game is scheduled to get underway at 8:00 o'clock.

On the mound for Burton's will be Earlene Walz with Laverne Schlusman catching.

Redbirds Win Over Brooklyn By 13 to 3 Score

Four Homers By Cardinals, Two By Musial

By The Associated Press

The characters were the same, the tune was the same, just the stage was different as the St. Louis Cardinals pinned a 13-3 defeat on the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday in Sportsman's Park.

They had done the same thing the last time the two clubs met in Ebbetts Field, July 27. Cloyd Boyer was the pitcher both times.

If there is anything that makes the Cardinal pitcher feel good it is to see a bunch of hits behind him. And Boyer had plenty of chance to feel good as Stan Musial hit two home runs, Red Schoendienst tripped with the bases full, and Bill Howerton and Tommy Glaviano each homered, to mention just the heavier blows.

The hardest blow off Boyer was Roy Campanella's home run. Only in the ninth did Boyer appear to weaken when three singles and a walk produced the last Dodger run.

The two clubs are scheduled to hold their last session in St. Louis this afternoon with Gerald Staley due to face Preacher Roe.

The Browns managed to squeeze out a victory in the tenth inning of their second game with the Washington Senators, 11 to 10, after bowing to the same club 8-0 in the opener for the seventh loss in a row.

Joe Haynes pitched a five-hitter against the Browns in the first contest.

Ray Coleman's triple produced the winning run for St. Louis after Eddie Yost's bad throw allowed Roy Sievers to reach first base safely.

Stella Walsh Not To Retire

FREEMONT, Tex., Aug. 28.—(P)—Stella Walsh, who began setting world track and field records in the early 1930's, suggests no one take her seriously when she says she plans to retire.

The 39-year old Cleveland star admits announcement of her retirement has become an annual affair.

"I've said it for three or four years running now but as each year comes around I get the urge again," she said.

Miss Walsh placed in three events but took no championships here Saturday night in the national AAU women's track and field meet. She was second in the 200-meter dash, sixth in the discus and third in the javelin.

Among the records she still holds are the world and American marks for the 200-meter and the American and AAU broad jump. She also shares with Helen Stephens the American and AAU 100-meter record.

Practice Starts At Warrensburg

WARRENSBURG, Mo., Aug. 28.—(P)—Practice started today at Central Missouri State college for 103 football hopefuls.

Coach Tate Page said the 193 total is 13 more than he had expected. The squad includes 24 lettermen. Twice-a-day practice sessions are scheduled.

The squad includes Gene Dowdy, top-rated freshman from Sedalia, Mo. Dowdy took spring practice at the University of Georgia.

Dayton Hurler, Only 14, Boasts 10 No-Hit Games

By ALFRED C. HALL
 AP Newsfeatures

DAYTON, O.—Ten no-hit games in three seasons! That's the record of 14-year-old Jackie Wells of Dayton, an amateur pitcher.

Jackie hurls for Morgan's Stars, a class D outfit in Dayton's amateur baseball league system.

The boy pitched three no-hitters in 1948 at the age of 12 and five last year.

This year, at 14, he's younger than most of the boys he's facing in class D ball, but his youthfulness hasn't stopped him from authoring two no-hitters, and a two-hit performance.

Back of Jackie's ambitions to hit the big leagues some day is his mother's wish that he go on to bigger and better things in baseball. Back of her hopes, in turn, is the story of Jackie's father, Dick Wells.

The father was stricken fatally on a baseball field in 1946—a heart attack while warming up for a softball game.

Dick Wells was a better-than-average left-handed pitcher who friends say "might have really gone places if he had stayed with it." Claude Norris, business manager of the Dayton amateur baseball commission who caught Wells in some of his best seasons, says that the smiling southpaw was a real prospect.

But, Dick Wells' stay-at-home makeup was stronger than his desire to be a great pitcher. And, since that night when Jackie's father died on the ball field, the boy's mother has been on the sidelines whenever her son has played—hoping he'll take up the diamond career passed up by his dad.

Jackie's a husky youngster. Right now he stands five-feet, nine-inches tall and weighs close to 150 pounds. He'll be a sophomore at Roosevelt High school this autumn and a standout basketball prospect.

The boy has no fancy windup or trick deliveries from the mound. He takes an abbreviated windup and has a short motion. He favors throwing his breaking stuff over a fast ball—but he does have the hard one when he needs it.

He labels his breaking pitches "inshoots and outshoots and a couple of other kinds," and claims they come more natural to him than blowing the fast one past the batters.

He's a cool workman on the mound — and now not only Jackie's mother, but many Dayton sandlot observers, are beginning to root for the boy hurler.

They think baseball will hear more about him in the future.

Car Sideswiped By Hit-and-Run Driver
 A. W. Haller, Dean Apartments, reported to the police his car was sideswiped sometime Saturday night by a hit-and-run driver. The car, a 1950 Buick sedan, was parked on Lamine avenue across from the apartment building.

The Buick was hit on the rear bumper and the entire left side of the car damaged from rear to the front headlight.

Fairy flies, or Mymaridae, are so small that five can walk abreast through a pinhole.

Held in Plutonium Theft

Sanford Lawrence Simons, 28-year-old University of Denver research scientist, is shown in the custody of two deputy U. S. marshals after his arrest in Denver, Colo., on a charge of stealing some plutonium — a vital atom bomb component — while he was employed on the Los Alamos, N. M., A-bomb project. Simons, the father of three children, has been working recently at the University of Denver on an army rocket project. (AP Wirephoto)

He Took The Consequences

The bronc, named Jet Pilot, fell on his rider, Robert Sorrells of San Acacia, N. M., a second after this picture was made. Sorrells was not hurt, however, and was given a re-ride for a large purse donated by the crowd at a two-day rodeo given by the Sierra County Sheriff's Posse at Truth or Consequences, N.M. Sorrells rode the horse to a standstill on his second ride. (AP WIREPHOTO)

DOG TIRED—Only an infantryman can know the truth of the old saying "A man's best friends are his dogs." Pfc. Thomas J. Madden, of Freeport, N. Y., does and that is why he's patiently searching through a pile of combat boots somewhere in South Korea to find the most comfortable pair. Photo by NEA-Acme correspondent Ed Hoffman.

Ready For The Enemy

Heavily armed U.S. tankmen mount guard with their M-24 tank at a roadblock near the Nakdong river front in Korea. Ready to repel Red infiltrators from the top of the tank are (left to right): Pvt. Maynard Lindweaver, cannoneer, of Lindsborg, Kas.; and Pfc. Hugh Goodwin, tank commander, Decatur, Miss. On the ground is Pfc. Rudolph Potts, gunner, of Egg Harbor, City, N. J. GI's Blindfold Prisoners

A North Korean prisoner captured in the Taegu-Waegwan area is blindfolded prior to being removed for questioning. Cpl. William Eurtner, Marshfield, Mo., sits with his rifle while S/Sgt. Robert Baldwin, Reeds, Mo., applies the blindfold. (Exclusive NEA Telephoto by Staff Photographer Stanley Tretick)

Acreage For Wheat In 1950

Notices are Being Mailed To Pettis County Growers

Notices of the 1951 wheat acreage allotments are being mailed to Pettis county wheat producers this week, announced Jas. A. Harvey, chairman of the Pettis county PMA committee.

Producers seeding wheat within the 1951 acreage allotment on their farms of any farm on which they have an interest will be eligible for price support on the 1951 wheat, provided there is no interest in any wheat produced on a "small wheat farm" on which no 1951 wheat allotment has been established. Notices were mailed to known owners and operators of "small wheat farms" on August 14, 1950, advising them of the necessity of requesting that an allotment be established on such farm if they intend to sow wheat thereon and if they intend to be eligible for price support on wheat produced on this farm or any other land in which they have an interest. Such a request for an allotment should be made to the Pettis county committee, 209 1/2 South Ohio, Sedalia, before September 15, 1950.

The 1951 Pettis county wheat acreage allotment is slightly increased over the 1950 allotment, however it will not be reflected in such manner on all individual farms, due to the fact that individual farm allotments are other grains with respect to storage charges on loan commodities delivered to CCC.

As in previous years, only wheat grading No. 3 or better, or No. 4 or No. 5 because of test weight or because it contains wheat of the classes durum and or red durum, but otherwise grading No. 3 or better, will be eligible for loan or purchase.

Allied Troop Deployment at Present

Map locates approximate positions of various United States and South Korean units opposing invading North Koreans (dark arrows) along 120-mile defense perimeter after nine weeks of war in Korea. Broken line is approximate battle line as of noon, EST, Aug. 26. Insert maps show week-by-week penetration of the Communists with dates—indicating end of each week in U. S. time. The eRds have been stalled all week in efforts to break through the Kumhwa-Chongno line in the north to take the vital city of Taegu. (AP Wirephoto Map) established on the basis of crop history. The 1951 wheat allotments are based on the history for the years 1947, 1948 and 1949, while the 1950 allotments were based on the history for the years 1945 through 1948. The variance of history on some farms during these years has made a considerable change in the 1951 allotment as compared to the 1950 allotment, said Harvey.

The Navajos are the largest Indian tribe in the U. S. today, says the National Geographic Society.

Many Indians on the 16-million-acre Navajo reservation in New Mexico and Arizona still resort to ancient ceremonies to cure illness. It is estimated that there are 3,500,000 acres of peat, a form of fuel, in different parts of Great Britain.

Organizations Have Valuable Records of Their Activities

Missourians organize themselves into associations of all kind, and most of those associations publish historically valuable records of their activities. One of the largest collections of such publications is in the library of the State Historical Society of Missouri at Columbia.

Among the older fraternal groups represented in the collection are the I. O. O. F. and the Knights of Pythias. Records of the A. F. & A. M. Grand Lodge of Missouri as far back as 1821 are in the library. Proceedings of the first annual session of the Missouri Order of the Eastern Star at St. Louis in 1875 are among the earliest records of women's societies.

Interesting Reports

Publications of patriotic organizations include reports of the state American Legion conventions, and yearbooks of the Daughters of the American Revolution since 1910. There are proceedings of the Missouri encampments of the Grand Army of the Republic beginning with the first one at Kansas City in 1882, and records of their auxiliary, the Woman's Relief Corps.

Almost every sort of Missouri organization has publications in the collection, ranging from Anti-Horse Thief Association booklets to the Audubon Society's Bluebird magazine. There are W.C.T.U. minutes of 1884 and reports of the Missouri Bar Association since 1880 included in the great variety of material.

The collection grows yearly as Missouri associations send copies of their publications to be preserved in a library available to everyone.
